LET'S TALK CONTEXT

Filling in the gaps on concepts, terms, history, and more introductory feminist learning.

LET'S TALK APPLICATION

Example scenarios with advice on how to handle the conversation and ideas of what to say.

LET'S TALK BEHIND THE SCENES

Background on who the creator of LTF is.

POV: your sister just outed your friend's trans status

How do you handle other people's trans status? Do you know how you'd respond in this situation?

Why don't we talk enough about disability?

Disability is often left out of feminist conversations...let's change that!

OTHER ELEMENTS

Links: The website is full of active hyperlinks to videos, articles, podcasts, websites, and other resources.

Shout-outs: Examples of activism and feminist praxis is used to bring attention to those doing the good work.

References: The website prioritizes resources and works from people whose perspectives have historically been erased and ignored.

Free: Wherever possible, free and open resources will be used.

POV: Your old college buddy says he's "fiscally conservative, but socially liberal"

Does this claim even make sense? Let's talk about why social and fiscal policy are interconnected.

What are Women of Color (WoC) Feminisms and how do they offer a unique perspective?

Let's face it, mainstream feminist movements can be super white-centering. Do you know about Black feminism and other WoC feminisms?

Stina (STEE-nah) Borth

She/Her • Founder & Learning Support Specialist

- BA, Spanish & Teaching English as a Second/Foreign Language
- MA in Special Education

"Stina is an amazing tutor. She comes with a ton of different activities to help my daughter learn, and if my daughter can't get a concept, she will switch to another that is more attuned to her learning style to help her grasp it. I have been so impressed by my daughter's progress since she started working with Stina!"

"Since finding out my child, and subsequently myself as well, we're neurodiverse, the single most successful tool we've had is Keymaker and Stina. She's a fierce advocate, excellent role model and teacher, and incredibly caring. I can't recommend her partnership more strongly."

🗝️ WHO WE ARE

Keymaker Youth Support Services Inc. is committed to providing individualized support to youth and to their guardians who are struggling to focus, connect, or learn. As keymakers, we know there isn't a "skeleton key" that fits every individual. That means if there isn't a perfect fit, we create one together.

🗝️ WHAT WE DO

The programs we run assist these individuals to be successful and thrive at school and in daily life. We prepare youth and their support teams to become "keymakers", unlocking opportunities for themselves through the inclusion of their unique learning and lifestyle that makes them the hero of their own story.

🗝️ HOW WE DO IT

Through our collaborative process, our values of self-awareness, self-advocacy, leveraging strengths, and moving with flexibility through challenges guide our practice both internally and externally.
